

Forest Information Billboard – March 2026

News & Updates from UNECE and the forest Community

Dear Forest Community,
The Forest Information Billboard is evolving. This March 2026 edition marks our transition to a newsletter-style format. Here you can have a quick look at recent developments and key updates of the UNECE Forest and Bioeconomy Section, as well as community highlights, including upcoming events and newly issued papers.

Click here to contribute to our newsletter!

UNECE Forest and Bioeconomy Section - Highlights

23 March 2026

International Day of Forests 2026 - Grown by Nature: A 360° online journey from trees to skyscrapers

Register now

4-5 March 2026

National Workshop - Strengthening and Greening Inclusive Non-Wood Forest Product Value Chains in Georgia

Read more

Available now

The publication "Boreal forests: A global treasure " - is now available in French and Russian languages

Read more \(EN\)

Read more \(FR\)

Read more \(RU\)

GROWN BY NATURE

A 360° online journey from trees to skyscrapers

Publications spotlight

A Guide to Creating Effective
Forest
Information Systems

Download PDF

By the numbers

118

cities joined the Trees in Cities
Challenge by February 2026

Join now

Share Your Story!

If you wish to share announcements on forest publications or upcoming events through the Forest Information Digest, please use our attached Digest template and send it to billboard.eceforests@un.org. The contributions are accepted throughout the year (next issue is in April) and are published on the first-come, first-served basis.

Please note that only edited announcements can be published. Editing remains the responsibility of the contributors. The Secretariat reserves the right to decide which contribution can be published.

The last Forest Billboard Edition (December 2025) is available here.

UNECE Forest and Bioeconomy Section
www.unece.org/forests

Follow us

